MEDICINAL.

I Advise Suffering Women Strongly, to Take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This advice comes from a woman who had suffered all the miseries women can suffer from disease, and had been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great medicine for women establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Read Mrs. Kempton's letter and, if you are sick, follow her advice.

"Although it has been quite a time since I wrote you," says Mrs. Kempton, of Cambridge, Mass., "I think it my duty to let you know that I am still enjoying good health, thanks to you and your 'Favorite Prescription.' When I think how I was five years ago, and then see how I am now, I say, God bless Dr. Pierce's works, and may he live long to help poor suffering women. I have never had any return of my weakness and am well and hearty. Can do all my own work without any aid. You saved me from the grave when all others failed. I advise suffering women strongly to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as I know it will cure in all cases, if indeed there is a cure."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative, suited to the use of delicate women.

TRAIN HELD UP.

Chesapeake and Ohio express train No. 1 was held up by a mob of 200 men near Clifton Forge Thursday night and a desperate effort was made to take two negro prisoners from the train. Over 100 shots were fired by the mob, and when the train reached Huntington 20 bullets were found buried in the wood-work of the smoker and all the window glass had been shot out.

At Clifton Forge the two negro prisoners were taken on board to be carried to Covington, Va., for safe-keeping, as it was feared that a mob would gather if they were allowed to remain there. Engineer James Peck, of Hinton, and Conductor Jack Hall, of Huntington, who were in charge of the train, saw lights waving on the track just as the train had begun to gather speed after leaving Clifton Forge. The train was stopped immediately, and Engineer Peck started to get off his engine to find out why the train had been flagged.

As the train came to a standstill a mob surrounded the engine and coaches, and threatening to shoot Engineer Peck if he moved the train, began to climb aboard. Conductor Hall, who had anticipated trouble when he saw the train flagged, was prepared for the mob, and as they made a rush for the coaches he ordered the doors of all the cars closed and locked. The men, finding that it would be impossible for them to enter to obtain the negroes for whom the train had been stopped, began to gather around the smoking car, in which the negroes were under guard. As Conductor Hall ran through the train calling on the passengers to lie flat upon the floor the mob began firing into the windows of the smoker, while the passengers scrambled for their seats to a place of safety from the flying bullets. The firing was kept up for several minutes and bullets whistled through the car windows, while women screamed and the mob outside continued their clamoring for the two negro prisoners.

Rocks were also brought into play and flying missiles of all descriptions came through the car windows, but not a passenger or trainman was injured. Engineer Peck, during the firing, had sat upon his engine covered by revolvers in the hands of several members of the mob. At last, when the main body of the mob had almost exhausted their supply of bullets, those who had been guarding the engineer left, going toward the smoker, leaving Peck unguarded.

As the guards turned and ran toward the smoking car Engineer Peck pulled the throttle wide open and the train began to move. The mob, seeing the train things had taken and fearing that they might be outdone in their efforts to get to the prisoners, climbed upon the platform of the cars and attempted to stop the train by turning the angle cock to the air hose, thereby applying the brakes. Not understanding the working of the brakes, however, they were unable to apply them at full pressure, as the train had gotten headway. Realizing that they had been baffled, the men jumped from the moving train and fired several shots into the car windows. The train quickly gained momentum and did not stop until Covington was reached, where the negroes were placed in jail.

The negroes for whom the train was held up are from Lynchburg, Va., and are supposed to be the ones who shot and seriously injured a white brakeman on the Chesapeake and Ohio excursion between Clifton Forge and Lynchburg a few days ago. The brakeman was shot, and it is thought fatally wounded, during the fight between negroes on the excursion train. He was taken to the Chesapeake and Ohio Hospital at Clifton Forge, and the two negroes were arrested in Lynchburg and taken to Clifton Forge Thursday for identification. The brakeman declared them to be the ones who shot him, and as there were reports of a lynching the Lynchburg officers decided to take the negroes to the Covington jail for safe-keeping. It is believed that an effort will be made to lynch the negroes at Covington.

TALKED HIMSELF TO DEATH.—Because he could not or would not keep silent, Henry Motz, a well-to-do citizen of Waterloo, Ill., is dead. Each time that he talked he caused wounds in his jaw to open and each time the services of a physician were required to close them up again. A week ago Motz was injured in a runaway accident. When he was taken home and the family doctor had mended his injured anatomy he felt an uncontrollable impulse to talk. And talk he did. Warnings by the doctor and by members of the family could not keep him still. The physician warned him of the danger of dying, if he continually talked, and on Thursday Motz died.

COMET DEVELOPS NEW TAILS.—That Borelli's comet has developed four tails from its forked appendage is the statement by the observers in the Yale University Observatory. As the comet approaches the sun in its precipitate attraction it may develop even more tails. Some comets have been known to have as many as Borelli's, and one had six tails. The comet is now northeast of the "Dipper" constellation.
